

1. One Organizational Choice that seems like a template is the titling & sectioning this choice mightve been made so that the Observer has a easier time understanding/navigating.

2. For navigation theres many tabs including "about me, personal thoughts, college"; and many topics of interest.

3. I believe this sight is pretty easy to access.

4. All that is included on the site is lots of reading, there is a few images as well.

5. Uses clear navigation, seperates projects into seperate case studies, home page that highlights the work done.

6. I would steal the case study idea be it shows depth not just finished work

7. Templates are helpful bc they are structured & save time but can also be limiting.
